

You want to change the world.

But right now you keep fumbling your lines.

And now you've dropped your index cards all over the floor

AS FEATURED IN:

You want to be able to confidently communicate in the spotlight. To master the art of speaking with power.

- Maybe you're an author, and the invitations to speak at festivals keep piling up. But you just can't.
- Maybe you're always holding court with your friends, only for them to exclaim, "You should do a TED Talk, you know!" And the familiar knot appears in your stomach at the thought.
- Or maybe you're a coach. And while speaking one-on-one is going fine, you need to be seen. To cultivate a following. And that takes personality. And all you have is fear and trepidation.

You just want to speak to an audience. To share your passions, your work, your insights.

What if you could go one step further?

What if you could enjoy public speaking?

What if you could calmly speak up in a meeting, on a sales call, or even do that TED Talk?

What if it could become your new thrill to step up and stand out?

I know - you're looking for public speaking coaching - this is about as far from your reality as possible. You're possibly feeling more like this, right?

As you step up onto the platform, the sweat begins to prickle across your forehead and under your nose. You wiggle your fingers to combat the numbing spreading through your hands. Swallowing with difficulty as your throat tightens, you can feel your breath become more and more shallow with every second.

You open your mouth to begin, and a tiny squeak comes out. You could swear you heard stifled laughter coming from the back of the room. There's no way this is going to go well.

You can kiss that project goodbye.

This was a stupid idea anyway.

Public speaking is never going to be your thing...

You've just resigned yourself to being in the background. Hoping your hard work will make up for it.

But just suspend reality with me for a second:

Imagine taking a deep, calming breath and walking to the front of the room.

Imagine opening your mouth and hearing your voice confidently and clearly explaining your process, your research, your big idea.

Imagine seeing faces listening intently, nods of recognition, a whole room of people ready to get behind your plan.

Imagine working your way through your planned points, relaxed enough to put your personality into your voice, your expressions, maybe even adding in a funny aside.

Imagine knowing that you can shift from nervousness to a feeling of calm.

Imagine sitting down afterwards, knowing that you had done enough.

That you'd spoken out as the truest, most authentic version of yourself.
And, actually, it was pretty fun!

I know that this seems a million miles away from where you are now - Googling "How to stop going red when public speaking".

But it is possible.

The solution? You need to make friends with public speaking.

And I can help you do that.

"You have taken something that has terrified me for so long and turned it into excitement and something to look forward to."

Natalie Marguet, Phd.

I want to make an impact

Hi, I'm Evelyne Brink!

I'm a coach, author, TEDx speaker, and super-mum of 2 children born with medical challenges. I use the challenges of my 'crazy life' audaciously to find more aliveness and magic.

I'm no stranger to the other side of the camera either. I've been featured on TV and media as Europe's no.1 Madonna impersonator, have been signed to Sony music, and travelled the world with one-woman shows as well as mimicking the queen of pop. Taking on the huge persona of the Queen of pop gave me a unique insight into not being afraid to own the space.

And what does all this mean to you? What can Madonna teach you about getting comfortable with public speaking?

I was told as a child that I sounded like "a rusty water tap". Most people don't know that I battled with a dysfunctional voice. I was told I'd NEVER be a singer, and that I'd struggle as an actress.

My training had to involve healing my voice first. But as a result, I have been gifted with the ability to help my clients deepen their impact through their body, voice, and presence so much more effectively. I can hear what's going on for you, and I know how to shift it quickly.

Together we'll elevate your presence and deepen your impact. We'll liberate your expression and bring joy to your performance.

I want to get you ready to be seen, to be heard, and to be understood.

Let's unleash your brilliance!

"If you are looking to have gravitas, presence and to be truly engaging on camera, then Evelyne is a person you need in your world.

It is not simply connecting to the camera, but connecting in a powerful, authentic way and delivering your message so it lands with impact. Many of my corporate exec clients have worked with Evelyne and the results speak for her brilliance."

Transformational Coach to Extraordinary Leaders & Ascending Stars

I've taken my 20 years experience in coaching and developed a potent feminine anti-hustle approach that elevates silently exhausted leaders to grow their Business-Queendoms fuelled by extreme wellbeing. Business by Pleasure!

I'm devoted to creating the impossible and liberating your expressive side. And together we will end the chronic insecurity culture for women, one gorgeous human at a time.

I'm ready to learn from the expert

“But Evelyne, you don't understand. I've tried EVERYTHING! And I still sound like a field mouse with a cold.”

Meditation?
Breathing exercises?
Detailed scripts?
Hours of learning lines?
Power stances and mantras?

You might even have tried public speaking courses before.

They taught you how to project confidence (even if you didn't feel it)
To imagine everyone in their underwear (which didn't make HR happy)
They gave you scripts and formulas and showed you ways to fake it until you made it (but you're still faking it)

So what am I going to bring to the table that will change everything?

Well, the truth.

The real answer is that it's not about putting on a mask.
It's not about faking it until you make it.
It's not about pretending to be an eloquent extroverted wordsmith who studied debating at Eton and can convince people to buy the Eiffel tower.

It's about helping beautiful humans like you rise and shine and thrive by being able to express themselves authentically- and with joy.

Express themselves - not someone else.

You can forge authority and impact even better when you're being authentically you.

But how do you get to the point where you can be authentically you, in front of other people, out loud?

VIDEO IMPACT helps you harness public speaking to achieve your goals.

- Learn how to settle your nervous system and give a calm, natural performance
- Discover the power of storytelling and how to harness it for your business
- Employ effective scripts that provide the structure for authentic communication
- Tap into the secrets of professional actors so you can express yourself freely

I often felt inauthentic...

Nnenna Onuba,

Founder of LBB skin care discovered 'natural performance'

"Before I worked with Evelyne, I was terrified of the camera. Early in 2020, I realized that sharing my expertise and my message in the new virtual world would become critical to my success.

As a result of working with Evelyne, my confidence to speak to the camera increased exponentially and so did my views and engagement rates. (over 2000 views on the 1st video)

Evelyne turned a terrifying feeling into a fun and rewarding experience. Her Video Impact and Video Mastery courses are great fun and full of practice and practical tips. I would recommend them to anyone who wants to build a strong and confident presence in front of the video camera! Thank you, Evelyne, for helping me overcome one of my biggest challenges ever!"

Those people you see winning on video, in your industry and others, the ones who seem so natural and effortless...

They've been trained. They've done the work.

And that effortlessness? I'll show you!

It comes from learning, from practice, from structure, and from a mindset of pleasure.

If you want to go from nervously reading a script... or trying to be natural but going off on 52 tangents...to having a structure that nurtures that feeling of authenticity and freedom.

If you want to stop hiding from the camera and spending all your money on expensive equipment instead.

If you want to stop saying, "one day I'll do it, but not yet."

Then Video Impact is the piece you've been missing.

I will help you change the world, without getting sweaty palms.
